Dear Dudley:

On my return from vacation last week, I found the copy of report of your Special Committee which was sent me. I am most appreciative.

We continue to have cases the proper handling of which is of great concern to me. We are studying the report, particularly for methods and procedures to assure the most well-rounded and objective consideration of each case that is feasible, and find its analysis and recommendations most constructive. There are, of course, some points to which we would take exception, but on the whole I believe it is a most thoughtful and greatly needed report for which the Committee and its staff are to be congratulated.

Sincerely,

Lawrence R. Houston
General Counsel
